The board of school commissioners of Rutland have replied to the petition of e teachers of the city schools for a further increase in salary with the statement that it cannot be done with the money now available. Should the city vote a higher tax rate with the under standing that the school teachers should profit by the raise, their petition could be granted.

C. E. Hooker of the Hooker-Howe Costuming company is in Burlington with a view to locating his business there. The company caters to the stage trade, making costumes, wigs, etc., and although the amount of help employed would not be large, still it would be a desirable business to have in Burlington. Mr. Hooker has been in the business for 20 years.

After he had driven his father's machine at an alleged speed of between 35 and 40 miles an hour up Church street in Burlington without an operator's license, 15-year-old Alton Mutchinson, son of L. O. Hutchinson of that city, was arrested Tuesday. His father was out of town and the case was put over until his return. Because of his minority the boy was unable to secure a license.

The Vermont Library association has arranged the following district meetings: May 22, at Dorset, in charge of Mrs. F. E. Kingsley: May 23, at Bristol, in charge of Miss Edith J. Chamberlain, Vergennes and Miss Mary R. Bates of Burlington; May 28, at Jeffersonville, in charge of Miss Anna I. Mower of Morrisville; May 29, at Wells River, in charge of Miss Evelyn S. Lease of Montpelier. These meetings are for the pubas well as for all library workers.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Windham county farm bureau in Brattleboro it was voted to buy an automobile for the use of the county agent. The car which the bureau formerly owned was presented to County Agent Sweeton when he resigned in consideration of his excellent services.

It is reported that several bald eagles have been seen around Brattleboro and one is said to have been shot recently in Townsend. Eagles are protected by the laws of Vermont and neighboring states. The only birds that can be killed or possessed in this state at any time except game birds in the open season are the English sparrow, startling, crow hawks, blackbirds, snowy owl, great horned owl and kingfisher.

The fate of the Valley Fair association of Brattleboro hangs in the balance. The debts amount to $11,000 and, although a new concern has been formed to take over the property of the old association, with a capital stock of $15,-000, less than $5,000 of the stock has been sold. If a fair is to be held this year capital must come from somewhere, and if not, the property standing in the name of the old association will have to be sold to meet its indebted cass, n which case it is probable no more fairs will be held in Brattleboro.
